

Welcome to The MARRS Bar, Worcesters' finest live music venue.
If you are in Worcester, looking for a great night out – fancy watching some top quality live music – then The MARRS Bar is the only place to be Situated in the city centre of historic Worcester, this former dance studio still has the original sprung dance floors put in place back in 1958. After an extensive 14 month renovation/conversion we have ended up with a venue that musicians have designed with the musician in mind, so bands really enjoy themselves when they play here – and as a result, always give a better performance. We have a 5k in house sound system, in house lighting rig and in house sound engineers.

The executive balcony is available for parties, Corporate Entertaining and album launches.

There is a train station a taxi rank and a bus stop all within 2 minutes walk

Every Wednesday is Jam Night at The MARRS Bar. We have a full range of instruments set up for you to play so if you are a guitarist, bass player, keyboard player, singer or drummer you can just turn up and play. You are welcome to bring your own instrument along too if you'd prefer. There is also a DI box set up for the unexpected double bass or an acoustic guitar or whatever. from 8:30pm is the acoustic hour, open to all singer songwriters to get up and try a couple of numbers. After 10, the house band hosted by Pete Mann get up, fancy playing with these boys? Then just make yourself know to Pete, fancy getting up with your own band? Anything goes. Best of all, it's free entry all night.

Only in existence since March 2000, catering for every genre, The MARRS Bar is known as one of the best venues of it's size in the country attracting acts such as Bad Manners, Bowling for soup, Bury Tomorrow, Dead Men Waling, Dub Pistols, Ed Sheehan, Funeral for a friend, Gaz Brookfield, GBH, Geno Washington, Moose Blood, Nick Harper, Nizlopi, Phil Jupitus with The Blockheads, [spunge], spear of destiny, The Damned, The Levellers, The Selecter, Tribute to Nothing, UK Subs + Wilko Johnson
